Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Gilbert entertained Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Gray of Livermore Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Walker of Harrison, Sunday. They took a two hour ride around the lake in the Henrietta, Mr. and Mrs. Gray returned to their home on the evening train.

The Professional Whist Club were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Drake at Haydenville, Lake Umbagog, Wednesday evening. There was some difficulty on account of the logs, so the clock ball did not run until five, but they all got there. Some of the ladies went by teams and autos, and the gentlemen by boat. They were right royally entertained.

Perival H. Parris of Philadelphia called at the ADVERTISER office, Monday. Mr. Parris was a member of the Paris, Mass. & Company that published the Oxford Register here in 1870. He has since practiced law in New York city and Washington, D. C. Also did newspaper work in New York. At present he is inspector of the New York Life Insurance Co., and is visiting relatives in Paris for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon H. Millett have contributed two dollars towards the further improvement of the lakeside road. "I wish it was twenty instead of two," said Mr. Millett. "It looks so much better to enjoy riding through it and to pay something for my part of the enjoyment. With a little care and labor and but little cost the roads all through the country might be made beautiful places to live on and ride through."

What about the road, said Mr. Millett, "Ah," said Mr. Millett, "that would be too good to be true." Mr. Millett is one of Norway's best farmers. He is more of a practical than a visionary man. We can't take our money and be casually remarked. "How much better it would be to try to improve the looks of the old world a little for ourselves and others."

May Be Hundreds of Brown-tails.
C. B. Hamilton brings into the ADVERTISER office some white moths with brown tails that answer the description around the electric lights and says there are hundreds of them. He has made a study of these insects for the past three years and he feels reasonably sure these are the brown-tails, however, to be doubly sure, he has sent some of them to experts in this line. The buildings near the electric lights are covered with these moths during the day, and they can be easily caught or killed.

Later investigation shows them to be the genuine brown-tails and they are in fairly plentiful quantities. They should be killed and no time wasted in the killing. Where these pests come from is unknown, but they are here.

Tuesday there were a good many at the ADVERTISER building, and on grass in the near vicinity, also on the walls of places where examinations were made. Freight cars coming through from Massachusetts and the coast all bring with them the moths. Something must be done. Who is to do it? Each person must do their part. In Lowell, the moth nests in December and January and the city sends out inspectors, and by a city ordinance, for each nest found by the inspector five cents is added to the tax of the property owner.

At Tilton and Lacombe, N. H. the moths made their appearance last Saturday and Sunday, and they were promptly killed. At Tilton they were burned from the telephone poles, trees and houses with a torch. The moths are attracted by the electric lights and congregate in large numbers on the buildings and poles near such lights. At Lacombe, bonfires were made under the arc lights and the city lights were turned off, and many of the moths were destroyed by flying into the fire.

This could be easily done here and many moths destroyed. It is necessary that something be done.

We feel that the municipal officers of the town would be justified in expending money on the exterminating of the moths. If you want to find if there are any moths in your vicinity set out a lighted lantern and watch the insects that are attracted to it. The brown-tail has white wings with a body three-fourths of an inch long and at the end is a tuft of brown. Bonfires kept burning in the evening will attract and destroy many of them.

We hope they have not hit the country away from the railroad and electric lights, but we are afraid they have. Try the light and see and let us know the result.

Base Ball Association.
On Friday evening of last week the lovers of base ball organized under the name of the Norway Base Ball Association. The following officers were elected:
Pres.—Chas. H. Sargent.
V. Pres.—Chas. Bradley.
Sec.—E. J. Bangs.
Board of Directors—Chas. P. Barnes, John Shepard, W. F. Jones, F. E. Tower, Fred Laferriere.
Manager—Percy H. Nevers.

The board of directors are given the complete management of the affairs of the association and it is the object of the association to get together and keep a first-class base ball team. Two games a week will probably be played, one away Wednesday, and the other here on Saturday.

Mrs. H. H. Nevers is often seen on the street, her own chauffeur.

New books to the value of $125 are to be bought by the Norway library.

Isabelle Crockett of Yarmouth, is a guest at the Methodist parsonage.

Miss S. B. Prince has been having an outing at the Ridlon cottage this week.

Mrs. A. K. Allen of Foxboro, Mass., is visiting at her brother's, S. D. Andrews'.

Mrs. Ed Page of Kingfield is visiting at Dr. S. A. Bennett's on Crescent street.

Mr. C. J. Holton and son, Edward, of West Acton, Mass., visited the past week at her aunt's, Mrs. Orin Kimball's.

C. H. Adams was out Wednesday, for the first time since he was thrown from his carriage. His hip was hurt quite badly.

Dr. George W. Soule and wife, who have been stopping with J. B. Hazen the past two weeks returned to Boston, in their auto, Monday.

Tax collector, F. E. Decoster, is to have an office with Allard & Monilton, where he can be found. He will be there on and after next Saturday.

Ed Palmer, who has been of the Boston police force 14 years, is spending his vacation with his cousin, Frank Mann. His wife and daughter, Edna, will join him here, soon.

Report has reached O. P. Brooks that he was the person that killed the dog that belonged to John McKay, that was recently found dead. Mr. Brooks wishes to deny the report, and states that he knows nothing of the affair.

Dr. B. F. Bradbury has bought him a runabout Maxwell automobile. The doctor went to Portland and got it Tuesday. It is a good looking machine, and will not only be a great assistance to him in his business, but does he care to take his friends out auto driving a great winner of friends.

Stephen W. Libby has sold his house on Deering street to W. L. Merrill. Mr. Merrill is to put it up as a photographic studio. His lease in the Noyes block expires next January and it is understood he will occupy the studio he has bought. Mr. Libby is having the lumber hauled to build his new home on the lot recently bought of Hiram L. Libby.

A year old, fell from a hammock on their piazza one day last week, but fortunately without serious injury. Mrs. Carrier was swinging the child in the hammock, when the rope that held one end untied, and let the baby on to the ground. As the distance which the child fell is several feet, it seems very fortunate that it was not hurt.

Engagement Announced.
The engagement of Freeland Howe, Jr., and Sarah Brown of Bangor was announced to their friends Sunday. Those who know say they are to be married in the very near future.

The young people are graduates of Colby and while the engagement may be a surprise the acquaintance was begun in their school days. Mr. Howe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Howe of our village and is a scientist of much note.

Miss Brown is the daughter of G. W. Brown of Bangor. She is the assistant teacher in the high school at Bangor and has been a most successful teacher. Before last week, when Miss Brown attended the college reunion in Norway, for fifteen years though they had not met the mates in college. This is a pretty little club house where the honey-moon will be spent. The marriage is arranged to occur at Gorham, N. H., this Friday. Relatives and friends are to be present, and will make as pleasant an affair of the happy event as the limited time for preparations will permit.

At Bass Island.
George A. Dunn, A. E. Poole, Boston, and Raymond Smith of New York, were at their annual visit at Bass Island, Lake Umbagog, Tuesday. They are members of the famous Bass Island Club. This club house was built in 1880 and year after year the members made pilgrimages to the spot hallowed by many pleasant memories. There are sad thoughts too, for death has taken some of its most active members, and minor strings vibrate through their pleasures. It has been their custom to get one of the boys to entertain them at the cottage. A grand good time is the result.

At Grandview.
Miss Z. S. Prince, Mrs. H. L. Libby and Minnie Libby are among others at the cottage. Friday evening all the employees at the S. B. & Z. S. Prince store have been invited to a dinner party.

Golden Eagles Install Officers.
The installation of the officers of the Knights of the Golden Eagles was held Thursday evening with a large number of the members present. The officers were installed by District Grand Chief Charles E. Rideout of Auburn assisted by Past Chief Harold B. Malone as G. S. T. After the installation refreshments were served followed by speech making and a general social time. The officers: S. P. C.—Clarence V. Webber. N. C.—Charles W. Evans. V. G.—J. E. Everett. H. P.—Isaac S. Fox. S. L.—Levi Crockett. V. H.—Verne A. Rich. M. of R.—Merton L. Kimball. C. of E.—George L. Kimball. W. B. Harold Anderson. W. C.—Fred Allen. Hon. Sec.—William Morse. Esq.—Frank Russell. Ad. G.—Douglas Farrar. Ad. G.—Fred L. Bennett.

Lawn Party.
A jolly party gathered at the Methodist parsonage, Wednesday evening, to attend the lawn party for the benefit of the Epworth League. Ten Japanese lanterns were hung about the lawn. Ice cream and lemonade were on sale. Several selections were played on the graphophone. Games were played and a pleasant time enjoyed by all.

May Downing and Carrie Tucker were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Florence Horne from Portland is visiting relatives in this place.

Dr. E. C. Walker has moved to his farm for the haying season.

Hon. A. S. Kimball was at Rumford Falls on business, Wednesday.

Mrs. C. F. Whitman has a beautiful crimson ramblers rose that has 565 roses.

Thomas Bradbury is visiting in Boston. He will be gone about two weeks.

The Bickford Bros. have discovered veins of blue beryl at Stoneham of a very valuable form.

J. M. Hannaford and family move to their new home near Mechanic Falls, this next week.

S. J. Records returned Tuesday from a business trip to Rumford and surrounding towns.

Monks Klain pays cash for old rubbers, iron, copper and folded newspapers, also rags. See ad.

S. Dexter Andrews started for Ocoana, Wis., Monday afternoon. He intends to be gone about two weeks.

Linwood Flint, the Waterford wild animal dealer was in town Monday, en route to the Barnum & Bailey show, Lewiston.

Ursula C. Gammon, a Norway young man, a graduate of the Norway high school and later of the Boston School of Piano Tuning, advertised in another column to do piano tuning. He is said to be very proficient in this line of work.

Large new windows are being put into H. B. Bangs' house, and a new outside door. The large piazza and other improvements have been completely changed into the old Colonial style of the house. It is understood that next year further alterations are planned.

Frank Tobie of Lowell, Mass., is visiting his father, Jona. Tobie of Oxford. He called at our office, Wednesday, on his way home from a visit to friends in the North Waterford. He has been five years since he was last here. He works in a mill in Lowell, and is married.

We were in error when stating that Ambrose Farnam had a diseased cow in his herd. It was a cow of Charles Dunn's and not Farnam's. The test has been completed and only one more tuberculous cow was found, and that belonged to Charles W. Ryerson in Yag-ger.

Norway & Western Railroad.
Work of building the above road has been at a standstill this season. Early in May it was claimed the road was to be built at the Lake and that was all. Last Monday, officials of the Grand Trunk from Montreal, went over the route. They were M. F. Blacklock, superintendent, C. L. Mayne, assistant superintendent, A. Findley, master of bridges and building, L. C. Chase, civil engineer. They were accompanied by G. L. Nelson, eastern district general freight agent.

E. J. Fogg of South Paris, drove them over the entire route and they gave it a careful inspection. What their conclusion was they are unable to state. Whether the Grand Trunk are to buy the Norway & Western property and build the road, or whether they are to take it over, this is all that is known—but there is one thing certain, the business of that section continues to come to the Grand Trunk Railway, a railroad must be built by some one, or else the business will be taken by the narrow gauge, extending its road through Watford to East Stoneham.

Colby College Reunion.
Colby College members of the classes of 1893-94 in this vicinity and some from away had a reunion for three days the past week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. They were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. Barnes and Freeland Howe Jr. The party was made up of:

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. C. Lamoureux, Kittery. Mary L. Carlton, Westbrook. Mattie Tracy, Lawrence, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. Barnes, Norway. Mr. and Mrs. Vern Whitman, Norway. Mr. W. F. Jones, Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Gray, South Paris. Friday they went up the lake and dined at Cedar Lodge, the guests of Freeland Howe, Jr. Saturday they dined at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones on Pleasant street, and in the afternoon enjoyed a parlor concert by themselves, a large proportion of them being fine musicians. In the morning they had group picture taken at the Cottage Studio.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of Harvard, and so while not a member of Colby he was unanimously adopted and did his share in the festive occasion.

Wheeler's Big Shows.
Al. F. Wheeler's new Model Shows exhibited here Monday afternoon and evening. Just before noon the street parade on Main street, led by the band, which furnished good music. They went around Cottage street, up Fore, out Whitman and down Main, to their tents, opposite the fair grounds.

At 1:30 they gave a free show outside the tent, followed by a performance in the museum. The animals included Spitfire, the untamable lion who has killed two keepers, and at Phillips the other day, made an attempt to kill Prof. Perrino, the present keeper. In another cage, with some dogs, was a three months old lion. An interesting feature was the dog that counts, telling the number of days in the week, the time of day by a watch, etc. The fire eater and snake charmer each performed their difficult feat in a pleasing manner.

The performance in the big tent opened with the Grand Entry, Queen of all Nations, by the band with a parade of horses, ponies, etc., many carrying the National colors. This was followed by his wire act. Then the great Zeesh with an ease and grace that shows that he has had years of practice. Prof. Perrino entertained with his performing dog. A most amusing act was "Hee, haw, her name was Maud," the bucking mule.

Other features of interest were performances by Albert Gaston and Allison Wheeler, the oldest and youngest clown, and club juggling, Calquette, juggling on the wire and riding the unicycle, performing pony and other acts.

A concert of various comedy parts was given and Spitfire, the big lion, was brought into the tent in his wagon, and fed his usual meal.

The entire entertainment was clean and up-to-date, and deserved the good patronage which it received. The wire and trapeze acts were especially good.

A. P. Bassett is at his camps in Lovell, haying.

Allice Schauer is at home, after teaching a very successful term of school at Stoneham.

There will be no more services at the Universalist church until the first week in September.

Mrs. Carrie True from Massachusetts has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Benjamin Swett.

The Misses Barnes from Pawtucket, R. I., are spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Eben Shackley.

Allie Buck returned Wednesday evening, from his vacation, which he has spent at Portland and Peak's Island.

There was roller skating at Central Park, Tuesday evening. The next skating will be this Saturday evening. An exhibition skater, also some vaudeville companies have been engaged for the near future.

A. T. Bennett and wife have gone to Poland camp ground. Mr. Bennett will carry passengers to and from the depot until the meeting closes. The meetings commence Aug. 16, continuing until the 27th.

The Norway petition for the reestablishment of the Harrison and Norway mail route is reaching large proportions. There is another good thing being gotten up at Harrison. Bolster's Mills has already sent in a petition.

Work on the cottage of Walter L. Gray, of South Paris, on the east shore of the lake was begun last week. The lot on which the cottage is built is a short distance south of the Leavitt cottage. It will be a roomy building 25x32 feet.

Lucy M. Hayes has a position as teacher in the Stoneham, Mass., schools for the next school year. While teaching in Norway Miss Hayes did good work in the school room, and held a prominent position in the Baptist society and in school circles.

Ball Game, Saturday.
At a meeting of the directors of the base ball association, Tuesday evening, steps were taken to secure new players for the remainder of the season. Pierce Peabody, Mass., is expected to pitch Saturday; he comes well recommended. Malvey the batsman hitting short stop is expected to play Saturday. Catcher Leonard's brother, a strong outfielder and Wilds an infielder of Berlin will be in the game. The lineup will probably be: Leonard, c; Pierce, p; Cole, 2b; Mulvey, ss; Wilds, 3b; Hayes' lf; Leonard, 1b; Lowell, rf. The game Saturday, at 3 o'clock, will be with a strong summer team from Harrison. This team is made up of players from various preparatory schools, and college men.

The Radcliffe vs. the Wildmeres of Harrison at 3 o'clock sharp, is the way the game reads for Saturday.

Will Walker is working in Boston.

George W. Devine is having a week's vacation in Lowell.

SOUTH PARIS.
Annual Field Day.
The annual field day of the South Paris W. C. T. U. was observed Thursday, July 19. By invitation of Rev. and Mrs. Taylor the meeting was held on the lawn of the parsonage on Paris Hill. The Norway union and the pastor with their wives of the two towns were invited guests.

Upwards of forty white ribbons and guests assembled in the cool shade of the trees, from which were suspended the emblems of the organization mingled with the red and blue of gracefully draped flags. Tables decorated with daisies were spread, and ready for the loads of coffee served during the afternoon.

After the regular business of the union had been disposed of words of greeting spoken by the pastors who were present, the president, Mrs. Chapman, with a few well chosen words, introduced Ex-Gov. Samuel S. Perham, who is spending the summer on the hill, and who bears the weight of his eighty-seven years remarkably well, and he was heard with interest. His remarks were of a reminiscence nature, contrasting the two periods, that of the time of his boyhood and the present. Twenty-two years ago in his native town of Woodstock, there were but three male residents of fifteen years and upwards who were total abstainers. Mr. Perham was one of the three. The principal sales of the grocers were rum and molasses, and it being no unusual thing for one of the dealers in Woodstock to sell a hoghead of rum in three days. He also remembered that on the exact spot where the W. C. T. U. was assembled now, stood a grocery, where for many years its principal business was in wet goods. (For all that the Boston Herald tells prohibition in Maine is a complete failure.)

After the singing of familiar songs and a solo by Rev. E. O. Taylor, lunch was served and the guests departed, grateful for the courtesy of the ladies of the South Paris union. May they live long and prosper.

N. D. Bolster is on a vacation.

Bessie K. Chapman of Rockport, N. D., is the guest of her brother, Bankster Chapman.

Mrs. George W. Berry and daughter, Alice, of Salem, Mass., are visiting relatives here.

T. F. Hathaway is building on a small patch of the house which he recently purchased at the Leavitt cottage.

Mrs. J. P. Richardson and Doris Culbert are spending a few days at Portland and Peaks Island.

Mrs. Lula Phelps and Mrs. Charles Morgan of Portland, visited Mrs. Alice P. Thayer, last week.

Geological Survey.
F. J. McMaugh and R. A. Lee of the United States Geological survey, are at work in this vicinity. As is generally known, the United States in connection with the State, is engaged on a thorough survey of the State, a work which will cover several years. The men, who are here, are engaged in the topographical division of the survey, and their work is to establish what is called a primary level line. The line upon which they are now at work starts in Poland, comes through Oxford by Thompson pond to South Paris, thence through Buckfield and Turner to the Androscoggin river. They go on in the high way altogether. At frequent points along the line they have painted in white U. S. and some figures. The figures are the altitude above sea level.

A food sale at the Baptist vestry, this Friday afternoon.

The Western avenue club met Saturday afternoon with Mrs. S. C. Ordway. Refreshments were served and a general social time enjoyed.

Harry Jordan, who with his wife has been visiting Mr. Jordan's mother, Mrs. H. N. Bolster, is the manager of Keith's Philadelphia theatre.

Ida Field, Ripah Morton, Ethel Crockett and Flora Murch spent last week in a tent, camping on the shore of Lake Umbagog.

Rev. R. L. Sheaff of Gorham, N. H., will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday, in exchange with the pastor, Rev. A. K. Baldwin.

TORTURING PAIN.

Half This Man's Sufferings Would Have Killed Many a Person, But Doan's Cured Him.

Yet other thousands are suffering every day from these same ills. Why? They are either very negligent or very skeptical. Neglect of kidney disorders leads to dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease and other fatal diseases.

Sincere, honest testimony like the following should convince every skeptic. A. C. Sprague, stock dealer, of Normal, Ill., writes: "For two whole years I was doing nothing but buying medicines to cure my kidneys. I do not think that any man ever suffered as I did and lived. The pain in my back was so bad that I could not sleep at night. I could not ride a horse and sometimes was unable even to ride in a car. My condition was critical when I sent for Doan's Kidney Pills. I used three boxes and they cured me. Now I can go anywhere and do as much as anybody. I sleep well and feel no discomfort at all."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Sprague will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address: Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers, price, fifty cents per box.

North Waterford, Me., July 16, 1906. Dear Editor: I will now try a letter for the ADVERTISER. I am 13 years old. I go to school. My teacher's name was William Scammon of Berlin Mills, N. H. We had 10 scholars. I take for studies large arithmetic, large history, large geography, grammar, reading, writing and spelling.

I have been visiting my grandmother, who lives at West Stoneham. I kept house for papa a week, while mama was away visiting. I washed, cooked, washed floors, took care of 27 chickens, took care of all the milk.

I will close with a riddle: As I went out and in again from the dead the living one, six there are and seven there will be, and this shall set the maiden free.

Yours truly, EVA MAE McALLISTER.

WEST BUCKFIELD.

Rooster Foretells Company. S. M. Bonney has a rooster which foretells the coming of company. Friday morning he came onto Mrs. Emma Bonney's doorstep and crowed loudly, then walked under the window and crowded again. The company commenced coming before they were out of bed in the person of Blanche Buck, in a few hours followed by a niece and nephew from West Sumner, Iowa, and Eddie Bonney. Then in the afternoon Mrs. Anna Monk from Lynn, and her niece, Ruth Elms from Auburn came, and later a neighbor's children were there playing croquet. So if your rooster crows on your doorstep prepare for company, as he may be equally as good as a prophet.

There was a dance Friday evening at O. D. Warren's.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together. It is the last few years was supposed to be incurable. It is a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly recurring cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Remedy, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures in a few days. It cures in a few days. It cures in a few days. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The New Universalist Church

At West Paris.
The new church which was dedicated June 28 as has been recently reported, is a handsome building and no pains or expense was spared in its construction that would detract from its convenience or improve its appearance.

Ground was broken on the lot Sept. 19, 1905, and the building was completed June 10 of this year. The exterior is colored olive gray with cream-white trimmings and with the thirteen beautiful windows and symmetrical tower is most artistic and attractive. In the tower hangs a fine tuned bell of 1000 pounds weight, which is the memorial gift of L. C. Bates and has the name Bates etched on one side.

Upon ascending the broad stairway to the entrance the first thing noticeable is the beautiful grain of the quartered oak doors and as they stand invitingly ajar it may be of interest to enter the church. The entrance hall is splendidly furnished and arranged and probably has no superior in the State in a church of equal size.

The size of this hall is 12x15 and at the right of the entrance is the door leading to the main audience room. Directly opposite the entrance is the stairway leading to the basement and on the left side an alcove is furnished with overhead arch and pillars on either side. The alcove is furnished with plate glass mirror and at the left is a memorial window given by the workmen who built the church. This window has passion flowers in the center with a star at the top and at the bottom is this appropriate inscription, "Come unto me all ye that labor."

In the main part of the hall is one more memorial window with the name Cummings, this being given by Mrs. J. F. Emerson of Auburn, and Mrs. Fred Scott of Boston, in memory of their parents.

Between the stairway and the alcove is another arched entrance finished like the above and leading to the parlor. This parlor opens by sliding doors into the main room making the entire seating capacity about 250. The pews in the audience room will seat 130 and 150 chairs purchased for the hall below can be utilized when necessary.

The interior of the church is handsomely finished in weathered oak with pews and pulpit furniture to match, and in the parlor the mission style furniture is also of the same wood. The floors both above and below, are of 1 1/2 inch matched oak boards finely polished. The pulpit platform is carpeted with Brussels in green, with runs of the same in the aisles and around the sides, and a large art square of blending colors covers the center of the parlor floor.

The walls are harmoniously tinted with a shading of green, and the ceiling finished in cream color. The chandeliers were from the Best Light Company of Canton, Ohio, and are something new in this locality. The fuel used is gasoline which is fed from a small metal reservoir furnished with each lamp. The substance burned is gasoline gas, resulting in a powerful white light, quite similar to electricity.

The large stained glass window next the street is made up of four different sections, the principal coloring being in rich shades of gold and brown. The center was given by L. M. Mann, Mrs. Emma W. Mann and Edwin J. Mann, in memory of the immediate members of their family. In the center is a cross and lilies. The memorial windows each side are made to harmonize, the one on the right being given by E. W. Fenley who was leading her unconscious feet nearer and nearer to the abyss from which there can be no return.

Not long after her meeting with Pride she was induced by him to encircle her waist with his arms and he told her what would add grace, beauty and attractiveness to her appearance. That it possessed the magic power of keeping her form from losing its grace and fragile suppleness, and should she cease to wear it the angel would be lost and she would become misshapen and ugly.

Her good angel saw this snare Pride had set for her feet, but she knew that while she remained in his power and was deceived by the seductive influences which surrounded all his victims, her childings would have little influence and she hid her face and wept for she foresaw what suffering lay coiled beneath the surface of that cruel, though dainty article of adornment, and she well knew the cords which laced it closely about her figure would some day be the cause of deep wounds that would afflict the sensitive flesh and bring agonizing cries from the lips of thy-nov joyous, happy maiden.

She followed with patient sorrowful heart, the foot steps of this thoughtless child hoping that when the serpent coiled in the dainty corselet began to give warning of its fearful sting, by its constant tightening pressure upon the internal organs, the seat of life and source of all health, success and happiness. She would listen to her admonition and tear herself away from the giant Pride who was swiftly leading her on to doom.

But year after year passed by and outraged nature began, to succumb and avenge herself. The viper coiled around her had weakened and sapped the energy of her power that was necessary to perfect the work that sooner or later would develop upon her. Pain and exhaustion began to prey upon the maiden's once vigorous body and illness frequently racked her frame.

Still she ignored the imploring voice of the ever faithful angel whose warning grew louder and more persistent as the peril of her condition increased; for the whirl of fashion and the charm of society had bound strange chains about her once free happy spirit and dangers even worse than the corselet were yawning on every side while she basked undaunted in the smiles of deceit and false promises of future gladness and splendor offered her by lovers who sought the flame as motes circling around a candle until their wings are scorched in its flickering blaze and they fall wounded and blighted by the fiery magnate that lured them too close to its shrine.

One day she was amid the rush and flurry of the world a knight whose glance thrilled her being as none other ever had and Cupid's arrow pierced her heart and she fell, fluttering with pleasure and ecstasy into the meshes of love's flame, from which few are able to escape unharmed.

Wedding bells announced the sacrifice of another life to the caprice of mankind, and the woes and disappointments that come all too soon into every life however fair love's awakening, or promising the future may be at the altar.

In course of time, perchance, a young life is about to enter this world of hardship and death, and now she begins to so it can be used as a dining room. Two doors lead from this room into the kitchen finished and furnished by the Good Will society with every needful modern convenience, including a slate sink with running water, a large Quaker range and new table dishes. A new stove and sink have also been purchased by the society. Back of the kitchen is a toilet room.

While the Universalist parish and society have for some time had in contemplation the building of a church home, and had accumulated some funds for that purpose it would scarcely have been possible to have accomplished this without the valuable aid and financial assistance of L. C. Bates. By vote of the parish Mr. Bates was made chairman of the trustees and of the building committee and he has most generously given of both time and money to further this enterprise which is deeply appreciated by all the friends of the society. The sum raised by local contributions somewhat exceeded three thousand dollars, including the cost of the memorial windows which was seventeen hundred dollars. The entire cost of the furnished church is over eight thousand dollars, dedicated to the memory of the donors. The contributions being the gift of Mr. Bates, a free will offering of over sixty dollars was contributed in the afternoon of the dedication, which more than paid for the fifty new hymn books just purchased.

Mrs. L. C. Bates is president of the Good Will Society, which is an auxiliary of the parish, and has been a most efficient co-worker in the building of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates have done much to improve our village, but for nothing do the Universalist friends feel more deeply grateful than for their christian home, which may fittingly be designated a crowning ornament to our village.

A True Story.

For the Girls.
There was once upon a time a young girl of the Madonna type of beauty, of noble form and dignified carriage. Endowed by nature with strength and health, and thereby fitted to enjoy life and its blessings and extend to others about her comfort and happiness.

At the age of dawning womanhood, the most critical time of life, this fair young being was tempted by many others have been, by the false god Pride. As she had not the wisdom that cometh from above, she bowed down to serve this most tyrannical of gods.

She pursued the path that so many have found, too late, to be a dangerous over strewn with flowers beneath which were hidden thorns and briars. The flowers that enhance this treacherous path are vanity, flattery and admiration of the gods who bow down to the shrine of those who walk in this broad road to sorrow and death. An angel stood at the entrance of this road and whispered:

Little maid be cautious,
For your foot wears down the way;
Many slippery places
Lie along the way.
Life has many by-ways,
That may seem so nice,
But the feet that enter them
Dearly pay the price.

But the bewildering witchery of this enchanting period between the dawn of womanhood and the years of understanding dulled her ears, so that she was led by the false god Pride, who was leading her unconscious feet nearer and nearer to the abyss from which there can be no return.

Not long after her meeting with Pride she was induced by him to encircle her waist with his arms and he told her what would add grace, beauty and attractiveness to her appearance.

That it possessed the magic power of keeping her form from losing its grace and fragile suppleness, and should she cease to wear it the angel would be lost and she would become misshapen and ugly.

Her good angel saw this snare Pride had set for her feet, but she knew that while she remained in his power and was deceived by the seductive influences which surrounded all his victims, her childings would have little influence and she hid her face and wept for she foresaw what suffering lay coiled beneath the surface of that cruel, though dainty article of adornment, and she well knew the cords which laced it closely about her figure would some day be the cause of deep wounds that would afflict the sensitive flesh and bring agonizing cries from the lips of thy-nov joyous, happy maiden.

She followed with patient sorrowful heart, the foot steps of this thoughtless child hoping that when the serpent coiled in the dainty corselet began to give warning of its fearful sting, by its constant tightening pressure upon the internal organs, the seat of life and source of all health, success and happiness. She would listen to her admonition and tear herself away from the giant Pride who was swiftly leading her on to doom.

But year after year passed by and outraged nature began, to succumb and avenge herself. The viper coiled around her had weakened and sapped the energy of her power that was necessary to perfect the work that sooner or later would develop upon her. Pain and exhaustion began to prey upon the maiden's once vigorous body and illness frequently racked her frame.

Still she ignored the imploring voice of the ever faithful angel whose warning grew louder and more persistent as the peril of her condition increased; for the whirl of fashion and the charm of society had bound strange chains about her once free happy spirit and dangers even worse than the corselet were yawning on every side while she basked undaunted in the smiles of deceit and false promises of future gladness and splendor offered her by lovers who sought the flame as motes circling around a candle until their wings are scorched in its flickering blaze and they fall wounded and blighted by the fiery magnate that lured them too close to its shrine.

One day she was amid the rush and flurry of the world a knight whose glance thrilled her being as none other ever had and Cupid's arrow pierced her heart and she fell, fluttering with pleasure and ecstasy into the meshes of love's flame, from which few are able to escape unharmed.

Wedding bells announced the sacrifice of another life to the caprice of mankind, and the woes and disappointments that come all too soon into every life however fair love's awakening, or promising the future may be at the altar.

Let us hope, ere such a fate befalls her followers they will cast all disobedience of the laws of their well-being from them and that they may arise in womanly strength and slay the demon, Pride, with all the attending evils and sins that are the out-growth of being ensnared by him. And ere it is too late they will listen to the voice of the good angel, Conscience, and lean not upon the weak arm of flesh for support or succor, to find at last that is a false god and will ever fail them.

However fair its promises may be, remember that those who follow the path of beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised, and seek the Lord with all their heart while he may be found, and call upon him while he is near, "that the evil days come no more upon the righteous, but they shall say 'I have no pleasure in them'."

If Pride, with its attending evils, will bring such misery upon one, what will the god of Selfishness produce? The root of all evil is selfishness, which springs some of the worst crimes and cruelties to which mankind, through the transgression of God's covenant, is heir.

When this maiden arrived at the road where the giant Pride met her, had she looked about, she would have perceived at the right, a narrow path which led to joy and peace unobtainable. Lighted by night and by day with Celestial glory, reflecting a radiance that permeates the soul and fires the spirit to noble deeds, self sacrifice and the heroic attainment of imperishable riches, that the false gods of this world cannot give or take away, and triumphant entrance, at the end of the way, into the kingdom of the true God, Wisdom, who leads all those, who are willing to accept his escort, into all truth where there is no darkness or shadow of death.

GILEAD.

Band Entertainment.
Through the kindness and thoughtfulness of H. H. Cushman of Bryan's Food, the Gilead cornet band with their families had a delightful outing, June 30th, the very best in their lives.

By invitation of Mr. Cushman the band left Gilead on time by train, "all on deck" - saved one or two - full of fun and happy. As the train increased so did their enjoyment bubble over.

Arriving at Locke's Mills station they found Mr. Cushman's hospitality evident by its horse pitality, that is carriages for all, a thoughtfulness very much appreciated. The forenoon was fully improved, the band did not fail in any way, their part was played well, a credit to the host, time and Gilead. They gave many of their choicest selections.

Then came dinner in which Mr. Cushman again showed his hospitality and adaptability as host. Nothing was left undone. Afterwards came a long afternoon full of amusements. The music on the lake was indeed a thing long to be remembered.

After supper the refrain was "we won't go home till morning," although morning found each guest at home. When it was time to take the train Mr. Cushman had his carriages ready and all were taken to the depot. So ended a pleasant outing, Mr. Cushman happy as a host his guests thankful for courtesies extended, a time long to be remembered by both.

Many Sudden Deaths

From Poisonous Rheumatism
The Disease Has Its Dangers - Should Be Taken in Time.

Rheumatism has long been regarded as a trouble which, while it might be painful, was not necessarily dangerous. Very few persons it was thought, ever died from Rheumatism. Recent investigation among scientists has proved, however, the utter fallacy of such a belief. Three-fourths to seven-eighths of the sudden deaths, heart failures, etc., are due primarily to neglected rheumatism. Acid Rheumatism and Poison is allowed to stay in the system until suddenly one day it grips the muscles of the heart and kills.

Rheumatism is curable if the proper treatment is used. Liniments, plasters and all local applications may relieve the pain for a short time, but no one ever heard of their permanently curing cases of rheumatism. The only way to cure Rheumatism is the Urin-O way. Neutralize the Rheumatic acid and drive it from the system. That is what Urin-O does. No matter what is the kind or character of the Rheumatism, it is all caused by the same thing. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Muscular or Articular Rheumatism yields at once to Urin-O. Noyes' Drug Store the home of Urin-O in Norway they can tell you all about its wonderful virtues and the many cures it has made right here in your own town. It sells for 75c and $1.00 a bottle. If you wish to test Urin-O before purchasing, a letter to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., will bring you a trial bottle free of all charges.

RUMFORD FALLS.

Got His Quarter.
John H. Martin, who is now visiting his son, J. K. Martin, was born on Red Hill near Rumford Centre and spent a good part of his past life at that place. Mr. Martin has always been noted as a humorist. Here is a story. In the early days at Rumford Centre there used to be a swing in a high tree near the river bank where the young folks would float through the air over the running water. One day "Uncle John" was near by and offered a quarter to any one who would swing out over the water without taking hold of the ropes. A young man called Everett Lyford Brutus Caesar Bartlett stepped forward and jumped into the swing. Out he swung but when the swing came back, where was the boy? You can guess that part yourself. When Uncle John saw what had happened, he turned and put off thinking that he would be taken for a murderer, but had not gone far when a voice piped up from the river bank, saying "Here, old John, where's my quarter?"
The robber who broke into Felix Landry's pool room, found only a single quarter in the money drawer.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Doings at Central Park.

A crowd of about 250 gathered at Central Park, Thursday evening to attend the Vaudeville entertainment given by local talent. Those taking part were Prof. Walker Chandler and Little son Francis, Frank, Fred and William Moore and Harold Anderson.

Prof. Chandler and son gave an interesting double hoop rolling specialty. The Hobo quartet composed of the Moore brothers and Harold Anderson entertained with songs and specialties.

Prof. Chandler gave an excellent lamp balancing act. The entire entertainment was good and a credit to those who gave it.

The Rose dance at Central Park, Friday evening, was well attended. This was the first dance held at the park this season. Stearns' orchestra furnished music.

During the evening, a horse that was hitched across the street and belonged to Bert Wood, became uneasy, no doubt wishing to join in the dancing, but being hitched to the carriage, he threw himself and was unable to get to his feet without assistance. Ralph Harriman, who was nearby, at once obtained help from the park. The horse was soon on his feet, with but little damage done.

Saturday evening, roller skating was the attraction. This is a sport that nearly all young people enjoy and at the rink here they have a fine chance.

C. L. Hathaway and wife are at their cottage "Summer Rest" on Twin Island, Lake Pennesseewassee.

E. A. Strout of New York, proprietor of the Strout Farm Agency, is soon to tour Oxford County, a la auto.

A. N. Burbank of New York has been elected vice president of the International Paper Co. at Rumford Falls.

Harry Glidden and family, and Willie Horne and Lottie Dagle are at Pinehurst by Lake Pennesseewassee for two weeks.

Mrs. J. W. Nash, who has been confined to the house by a severe cold, is again at her work at the taxidermy rooms.

H. D. Cole, formerly manager of the Cole Jewelry Store, is with W. B. Marsh's Jewelry store at West Lynn, Mass.

Without Charles Johnson on the streets much would be wrong. He is always ready to assist with advice, and aid in every opportunity where he can.

F. W. Sanborn visited his childhood's home at Meredith Center, N. H., this week, where his mother, sister and family from Lowell, Mass., are spending the summer.

"A Runaway Match," the play presented at the Opera House, Saturday evening, was very amusing and those who went there were well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Charles H. Adams' horse, which was drinking at the watering trough at the head of Main street, Thursday afternoon, became frightened by the electric cars. The horse jumped and threw the wagon against the iron trough, cleared himself, and ran furiously down Main street with the whistle-ree flying from one end of a tug. Mr. Adams was thrown out over the dasher. The horse with the whistle-ree vibrating from side to side, like a pendulum, cleared the street in short meter. Fortunately Mr. Adams was not seriously hurt and but little damage was done.

The Bryant's Pond team came down Saturday, and went back with the short end of a close-scored game.

Roy Jordan pitched the game for the Radcliffes and kept the few hits scattered except in the seventh inning, but clever fielding prevented the visitors from doing the score.

Irving Pike was back in the game and played well at short.

Nash, a young player from Lewiston was played at center field, and the victory of the local team was due to a large extent, to his batting and fielding.

Those who stayed away from the game expecting to see it one-sided, missed one of the best games that will be played this season.

The home team scored 3 runs in the first inning on four errors. The visitors also scored one in first on errors.

Two hits and a clever sacrifice hit by Nash produced one more for the locals in the fourth.

The visitors looked dangerous in the seventh when Emery and Billings, the first two up, both singled. A wild throw by Jordan scored Emery. D. Hayes hit a grounder to Cole and Billings was out at the plate, and on the same play J. Farnum was caught off second.

Leonard scored on a sacrifice. Leonard to Nash; F. Farnum went out to Pike and the inning closed.

Foremen vs. Professionals.

July 18th gathered one of the most picturesque groups of ball-tossers, long, short, plump and skiny, to contend in a five inning contest, which ended in favor of the Professionals, 17 to 7.

The game was one of the most spectacular ever played on these grounds in which many hair lifting plays were pulled off in the twinkling of an eye.

Tower, the mighty slugger, got into the game in the fifth inning and contributed a phenomenal slide to second, while Bartlett covered immense territory around third base, making several marvelous one hand stops.

Shepard and Bradley both used a side arm delivery, which has cut several great pitchers' careers short. In fact, Kimball played a snappy game at second taking all of Nevers' throws in grand style, while the fielders, Sheehy, Drake, Bradbury and Allen, assisted by Pratt and Leavitt, fielded their positions with remarkable swiftness.

Arthur H. Swan, a one-time Norway boy, now has on his business letter-head "Arthur H. Swan & Co., manufacturers of the Swan Patent Peel Blade Tip," of which he is the inventor. The manufacturing is at Rockbury, Mass.

Prof. R. E. Clement and family, when they arrived at their cottage by the lake, the first of last week, found it occupied. Mice had taken possession and had fixed things to their liking. They had been especially busy in making beds and bedding in the most approved mouse style. A little extra work soon straightened out affairs.

Grace B. Bicknell has resigned her position as assistant teacher in Norway high school and accepted the position of assistant in the Leominster, Mass. high school, a school of some 300 pupils. She will begin her work there with the beginning of the school year in September. Miss Bicknell has done good work in the Norway school.

Wishes He Had Stayed in Maine.

Basin, Wyoming, July 9, 1906.

Since I wrote you from Billings, Montana, I have come 800 miles south to this place. This is new railroad and is as far as they carry passengers. But there are a thousand men showing it on as fast as possible. The next town is 35 miles. They have to draw everything by teams and charge 2 1/2 cents for drawing freight and 10 cents a mile for passengers. The mail is brought here by stage yet, 50 miles, but the governor has contracted with the railroad to commence carrying the mail the 15th of this month.

This valley is about 30 miles long and 10 wide. It is hot here; is 110 some days, and the Big Horn mountains are covered with snow. We can see them plain. Don't look as if they were over 10 miles away. The river is quite high on account of the hot weather melting the snow. They tell me there are 20 feet of snow there now. It never all goes. The government is building a canal 60 miles long. It won't reach this place before spring. They can't raise anything here until that gets here, for they have no rain, but the air is pure. We are some 6,000 feet above the sea.

I came to go to the Shoshone U. S. land drawing, but it is 60 miles further on. I don't think I will go for the further you go the dearer it is to live. When I go from here I will go nowhere but to Minnesota, Maine, and be contented with my lot.

I wish now that I had heard to my friends and stayed at home. This is all right for a man in good health and plenty of money. It is going to cost $200 a year for the use of the water when it gets here. The dam on the Shoshone river, that the government put in, is 175 feet high to furnish this water. I have had no mail from anyone since I left Maine.

I expect to go north in a few days. Warlin and Thompson is where the land drawing is to come off the 10th of August. They commence to register the 15th of this month and they have commenced to flock here already. Lumber $25.50 a thousand and some of it is drawn 40 miles.

Just tell my friends where I am and for them to be good and stay in old Maine. Yours truly,

C. W. WILLEY.

WEST SUMMER.

Howard Curtis, who recently sold his two farms, has bought one of Fred Chandler. So he will not as some feared, move out of town.

Twenty-eight young people from this vicinity attended the dance at North Bethel, Saturday evening. A nice supper and a general good time.

Several automobiles have passed through here of late.

Frank Young has had a sick time for quite a number of days. His wife has had another attack of the eczema in her face, which troubles her badly. They are both able to be out again when pleasant.

Wallace Ryerson from South Paris, was in this place last week on business, in connection with his aqueduct here, which supplies so many of our village families with water.

W. E. Doble, who is selling nursery stock for H. N. Chase, is at home for a few days to help his father about haying.

Frank Barrows of South Paris, and his brother, Fred, of Waltham, Mass., recently called on relatives.

Charlie Buck went to Auburn, spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Bisbee went to Buckfield, Sunday, to see sick friends.

Arthur Bonney and Walter Chandler went to Norway, Monday, on business.

Jarvis Thayer from Paris Hill, was in our place, Monday, looking for help in haying, which seems to be rather scarce.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clark recently visited the niece, Mrs. Fred Chandler, and family, stopping over night.

The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Bisbee are Arthur Moore, their adopted son, and his friend, Allen Nickerson, both from Brockton, Mass.

Julia Gauthier went to Turner, to visit her sister, Saturday, returning Sunday.

STOW.

The republicans held their caucus the 7th. Almond Emerson was nominated as representative to the State legislature. Mr. Emerson has always lived in town and is one of the largest tax payers. He is always true to his party and is just the man who would do the work. There was a good turnout at the caucus and no opposition.

Mrs. Solomon Johnson visited her daughter, Mrs. Henry McKee recently. A few of the farmers have commenced haying with not very good results.

A. G. Willey and Will Smith have their telephone boxes put in and are well pleased to have them.

A. C. Andrews and family visited at Fred Harriman's at Chatham Center, recently.

Mrs. Joanna Atkinson of West Bridgton visited at her nephew's, Q. W. Stevens recently.

Mrs. Sadie Learned Pratt.

Mrs. Sadie Learned Pratt, wife of Edward Pratt of Andover, passed away July 6th.

Mrs. Pratt was the oldest daughter of Simon Learned and Louis Morse. She was born June 12, 1872, in Andover. She was married to Edward J. Pratt, Nov. 23, 1886. They lived on the farm where Mr. Pratt was born all their married life until three months ago, when Mr. Pratt sold and bought a home in the village.

Mrs. Pratt was a member of Ellis Glen Assembly, who attended the obsequies in a body. Funeral services were from the Congregational church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Quimby, pastor of the Universalist church. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers.

What is a Backache?

IT IS NATURE'S WARNING TO WOMEN

"It seems as though my back would break." Women utter these words over and over again, but continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, "bearing-down" pains, nervousness and no ambition for any task.

They do not realize that the back is the main spring of woman's organism, and that quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the female organs or kidneys, and that the aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been for many years the one and only effective remedy in such cases. It speedily cures female and kidney disorders and restores the female organs to a healthy condition.

I have suffered with female troubles for over two years, suffering intense pain each month, my back ached until it seemed as though it would break, and I felt so weak all over that I did not find strength to attend to my work but had to stay in bed a large part of the first two or three days every month. I would have sleepless nights, bad dreams and dizzy headaches. All this undermined my health.

"We consulted an old family physician, who advised that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did so, and in a few days I found that I could sleep and eat better than I had done for months. Within two months I became vigorous and I no longer suffer from backache or pain."—Miss Maude Morris, Sec. Ladies' Aid and Mission Society, 55 E. Hunter St., Atlanta, Ga.

SOUTH PARIS.

We are glad to hear that William K. Holmes has been appointed as instructor in Chemistry in Natick High School, Natick, Mass. Mr. Holmes received his appointment through the kindness of L. E. Pulsifer formerly of this town, but who is now a member of the Natick School Board.

Carl Jean Tolman, the talented musician who formerly lived in South Paris, the son of C. E. Tolman of that village, has met a decided success in a composition of his which was lately played by the Boston Symphony orchestra in a pop concert in that city. It is a mazurka, "Nazalie", and shows that Mr. Tolman has decided talent in composition. He now makes his home at Winchester, Mass., and devotes his time to piano-forte recitals and composition. In addition to the exceptional distinction of having his composition played by the Boston Symphony it is announced that it has been procured by Sousa for rendition by his famous band.
